Australian working conditions

Workplace rights

Pay rates and workplace conditions are set by Australian law. All people working in Australia, including those from overseas, have rights and protections at work. These cannot be taken away by contracts or agreements.

If you have questions about your pay and conditions while in Australia, you can contact the Fair Work Ombudsman for free information, resources and advice.

Visit www.fairwork.gov.au for information for visa holders and international students. This includes information in 41 languages.

You can also contact the Fair Work Ombudsman by phone within Australia on 13 13 94 (Translating and Interpreting Service 13 14 50).

Pay

Your minimum pay rate can come from an award, enterprise agreement or other registered agreement, or the national minimum wage. Employees have to be paid the right pay rate for all hours they work including training, team meetings, opening and closing the business and doing a trial shift.

National minimum wage

Certain employees may have different pay entitlements depending on whether they have a reduced work capacity because of disability, if they are under the age of 21 or if they are an apprentice or trainee. You can calculate your correct pay and entitlements using the Pay and Conditions Tool at www.fairwork.gov.au/pay

More information on employment in Australia is available on our website immi.homeaffairs.gov.au/visas/working-in-australia/work-rights-and-exploitation/work-restrictions and on the website of the Department of Employment and Workplace Relations www.dewr.gov.au

Tax file number

To receive an income in Australia, you need a Tax File Number (TFN). Income includes wages or salary from a job, government payments and income from investments.

For more information or to apply for a TFN online, go to the Australian Taxation Office website www.ato.gov.au

Information pack on domestic and family violence, sexual assault and forced marriage

The Australian Government has developed a family safety pack with information on Australia's laws regarding domestic and family violence, sexual assault and forced marriage. The family safety pack also includes important information about essential services and emergency contacts in Australia. This information can be found at www.dss.gov.au/familysafetypack

Character requirements

Entering or remaining in Australia is a privilege. You must obey the law and not engage in criminal activity.

Your visa may be cancelled for a number of reasons, including if you have a substantial criminal record or behave in a way that is a risk to somebody in the Australian community.

More information: immi.homeaffairs.gov.au/help-support/meeting-our-requirements/character

Your entitlements to government services

You may be able to access a range of services offered by the Australian Government such as payments and benefits, job matching, Medicare and short-term counselling for torture or trauma where required. Services Australia delivers a range of welfare and health-related payments and services. You may have to wait before you can access most welfare payments. More information about the range of services that may be available to you and your eligibility to access them, including any waiting periods that apply, is available on the Services Australia website www.servicesaustralia.gov.au

Tell us if things change

Tell us about any changes in your circumstances as soon as possible. This includes changes:

- to your name, passport, contact details or address
- to your family members
- that might affect answers you gave in your application.

Our website has information about how to tell us about these changes:
